Paul Thieneman

Our founder grew up in the farming country along the Ohio River in south Louisville, the grandson and son of truck farmers. After graduation, Paul thought he could build a business selling local produce. He settled on a location at 1006 Barrett Avenue. With a small loan from his father as well as the promise of bushels of fresh kale greens on opening day, Paul's was born.

Today Paul's markets continue to provide fine fruits, vegetables and gourmet items in four retail locations with distribution and gift basket operations at Jennings Lane. Paul's advice to the third generation, including all the grandchildren, is simple: Be open to new ideas and new ways to grow. Always changing with the times is how Paul's markets will remain fresh for years to come.
